Hello Im new to this site and very new to Tax Lien / Tax Deeds. Im wanting to further my education and see if anyone in Kansas or Missouri is doing this? Has anyone actually obtained a property and made profit doing this? I have been reading and heard that only 1 out of 10 properties are obtained?

Yes, mostly tax lien investing is for interest earned.

So if you want to obtain the property you need to be looking at the Tax Deed? Do you know why Missouri is not listed on here?

Yes, that's correct.

At this time we don't offer listings in Missouri. However, if you tell me what county you are interested in I will point you in the right direction.

Thanks,

I have been researching counties in Kansas and Missouri. In Missouri I have found all the counties from NACO, like Cass, Jackson. What do you suggest as far as learning the process? I have been reading and getting all the county links that Im interested in but it seems like I have to wait till mid summer before I can get these lists?

Yes, unfortunately smaller areas don't make the properties available until right before the auction. Also, their websites didn't offer very much information.
